

Twins Extend Parallel Careers to Marriage

Levis Sisters, U. of D. Scholars
Wed History Instructors

Parallel careers of twin sisters all the way through school and college, and culminating in chemical research work on fellowship awards at the University of Delaware in quest of masters' degrees, reached a romantic climax yesterday afternoon at a wedding in Grace Methodist church, Baltimore, Md.

The bride was one of the twins, Miss Katheryne Crook Levis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Levis, of Roland Park, Baltimore. The bridegroom was Richard McCormick, for the past year instructor of history at the University of Delaware, son of Mrs. Patrick McCormick of Tenafly, N. J.

In the bridal party was the other twin, Mrs. John Munroe, the former Miss Dorothy Levis, married
(Continued on Page 6)

"a testimony to the enduring value of coeducation in postgraduate academic research programs"

Wishing you the continued bliss of a marriage that truly exemplifies all that higher education has to offer.